One HYDRAULIC WOOL PRESS No 205 complete with WOOL ELEVATOR to be exactly the same in every particular as the plant invoiced for a/c of Section Caleta Josefina per "Chaucer" s/s November 30th 1900 from Messrs Fawcett Preston & Coy Ltd. If possible the Hydraulic Pumps are to be worked direct off an Oil Engine, but if this is not practicable a Vertical Boiler as per Specification must be sent out.

One VERTICAL BOILER and FITTINGS as per specification.

Two CROSSLEYS OIL ENGINES viz:

One of V.V. and ~~x~~ W.W. type of 28 H.P. with two fly wheels for driving 48 Shearing Machines and Wool Elevator.

One capable of driving Hydraulic Pumps for Wool Press if practicable and if not the Vertical Boiler(already mentioned) with ~~xxxxxx~~ Steam ~~Engine~~ Engine to drive pumps(similar to the one sent out to Caleta Josefina ex " Chaucer") must be sent out.

Sufficient oil to drive the plant for say 60 days of 10 hours.

Sheep Shearing Machinery.

36 (Thirty six) Burgon & Balls " DAISY" Shearing Machines with all the necessary accessories to erect same, the shafting to be strong enough to drive up to 48 Machines in future if necessary. A Ground Plan of Shearing Shed at Section San Sebastian is enclosed, and from which it will be observed the distance between where the press and the Machinery will be situated therefore the shafting will have to be stronger at the centre of the Shed(where it will have to stand a greater strain) than the shafting driving the Shearing Machines.

The motive power for these Machines, also for driving the Elevator to Hydraulic Press will be one of Cressleys Oil Engines as described in Order No 45.

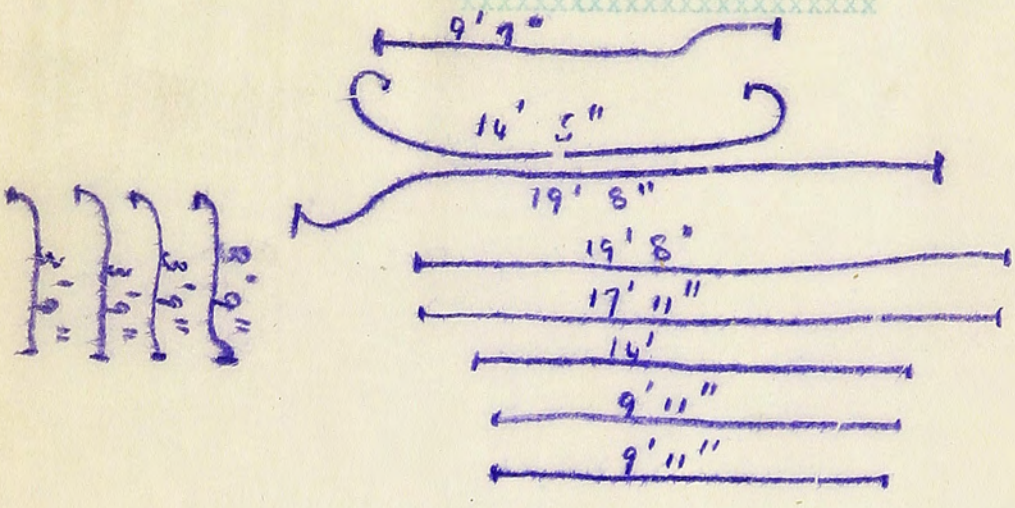
Seccion Cabota Josefina

March 28th 1904.

Rough drawings showing shape and lengths of various pieces of steel piping on hand as extras and not required for Hydraulic Press No 205.

xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx



These pieces are all 2" in diameter outside measurement and have all flanges, they are more than sufficient to connect the pumps with the press allowing the two to be distant from each other 80' to 90', which is quite as far as will be necessary. They form a complete set of the steel pressure piping required to connect hydraulic pumps with the press with the exception of the short pieces 2½" in diameter(outside measurement) which connect the steel inlet and outlet valve boxes with the press cylinder.

A complete set of wrot iron return piping say 80 to 200' in length will be required, also a spare ready bent pipe leading from pumps to safety valve, and also a spare pressure gauge pipe.

Of the 2" steel pressure piping a large quantity to spare is not required as during the three seasons the press No 205 has been in use none of this piping has ever burst.

The grooves cut in the top plates of the press and the bottom pieces must be arranged in such a way that the outside edge of each end groove is not more than ¾" of an inch from the ends of the press box. If cut 3" from ends of press box as in press No 205 the wool at each end of the bale springs out to such an extent after the bale comes out of the press that it is only possible to saw the end pieces on the after pulling out by hand a large quantity of wool, and even then the bale is ugly in shape, and measures very considerably more than it ought to do. It may be thought that ny having the hopps so near the end of the bale that they would slip off but this has never occurred in the Press No 205 since the new grooves were cut in the press tops and bottom plates, and they are in this case within ½" of the ends of the box. The press is wasted as a wool press unless the grooves are cut as indicated(though no doubt it does excellently as a cotton press, cotton having less elasticity than wool)the bale as it comes out of the press being this shape before the new grooves were cut, this operation

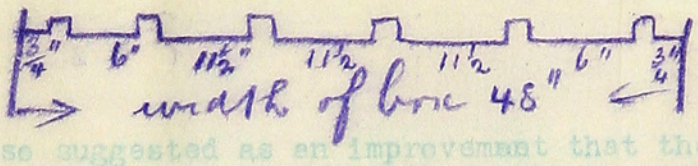
operation having to be done with great difficulty after the press has erected. The accompanying diagramx show the best arrangement of the grooves for the hoop iron, the distances are from centre to centre of the grooves, the grooves to be 1¼" wide.



It is also suggested as an improvement that the ram be made a little longer, so as to allow more latitude to the man in charge of the valves in stopping the press. At present we find that unless the man in charge is quick and careful and accustomed to the work, he frequently allows the ram to go up the least bit too high above the 21" mark on the indicator, and this results in the blowing out of the leather collar from the cylinder head. If these were 3" or 4" to come and go on in the length of the ram after it passed the 21" limit instead of 1½" or thereabouts it would give a new man at the valves a better opportunity of getting into the work without causing a loss of time and expense in the blowing out of the cylinder collars as occasionally happens at present.

Quantities.	Description.
	The following to be purchased from, or through, Messrs Dalgety & Coy, Dunedin, Gore N. Z.
One (only)	T I M B E R T R U C K, similar to engraving enclosed, fitted with double shafts, strong foot brake, drivers seat, also bottom and side planks, to be used for carting wool. Wheels to have tyres 6 inches wide for use on soft roads. The general construction of the waggon to be as light as compatible with a maximum load of six tons. Also two sets of shaft harness and eight sets of leading harness suitable for above; the collars to be about an average size of 19" measuring thus:  suitable for horses such as would be known in New Zealand as strong spring-carters. The harness in general will be smaller than usually supplied in similar cases in New Zealand. This waggon will be made on the lines of the two recently received from Gore, Otago, N. Z. and it is suggested than Mr John Cameron be asked to supervise its construction, also to select the harness.
One (only)	Double Furrow P L O U G H (Reid and Grays) B. quality with six steel shares and circular coulters and a few necessary duplicates.
One set	Reid and Grays improved four-pulley, four horse Chain yoke, complete with ~~th~~ trees, and one set

Order No 106 (2)

27 / 1 / 1906

set of pulley frames and pulleys extra.

Two (only) C A H O O N S patent hand broadcast seed sowers.

N O T E: None of these articles are required out here before August next, and as it is possible that some of the steamers of the Houlders Brothers Line may come direct to Punta Arenas from N. Z. to pick up frozen meat, the attention of Messrs Dalgety & Coy should be drawn to that fact with the view of shipping these goods direct to avoid the exorbitant charges made by the N. Z. Shipping Company, and the transhipping charges in Monte Video.

Quantities. Description of Goods.

From The Bristol Wagon Works.

One only Wood wagon to carry 3 1/2 tons with one spare pole, more or less similar to those obtained last season from the same firm for Section Springhill vide invoice ex "Hazel Branch" 9/11/06.

The following alterations are required:-

1. Instead of only a foot brake sustained by direct leg pressure - it is required to be a ratchet brake put on by foot pressure & cut-held by the ratchet similar somewhat to brake in diagram enclosed. With a heavy load on a steep hill the driver is not able to exert sufficient pressure on the brake for any length of time though he would always be able to do so in order to make the ratchet retain it.
2. The drivers seat to be six inches lower and should extend backwards very considerably more, the rail of same to be twice the length of the present seat.

These alterations are suggested with a view to the comfort and security of the drivers.
